THINK!

The character lines of the body are emphasized in the feet.

You recognize the principle involved when you go to your tailor to be measured for a suit.

The "tailoring" principle is as necessary in shoe fitting as in clothing fitting.

WE apply it when we teach our clerks to fit "Walk-Over" shoes TO MEASURE.

The "Walk-Over" way will please YOU if you are fastidious about the fit of your foot wear.

LET YOUR NEXT PAIR BE WALK-OVERS

Mrs. and Mrs. H. S. Palmer of Santa Fe were visitors here yesterday, guests at the Alvarado hotel.

Mrs. C. R. Shude and children left for an extended visit with her parents in Corpus, Tex.

Mr. Bert Bryant and children left last night on No. 9 for Los Angeles, to visit Mrs. Bryant's mother.

H. B. Holt, a prominent attorney of Las Cruces, was in Albuquerque yesterday.

H. B. Henning, secretary of the New Mexico Bureau of Immigration, left this morning for Cincinnati, Ohio, where they will become novices for the priesthood in the order of the Society of Cluny. The young man is enjoying good health and making splendid progress in his studies.

Thomas O'Reilly, who spent several months in Albuquerque last year, now residing permanently in Los Angeles, where he is assistant to the superintendent of construction for the Pacific States Telephone company, passed through Albuquerque on the Santa Fe Limited last night en route to his home in Madison, S. D., for a visit of several weeks.

J. H. O'Reilly, general manager of the Occidental Life insurance company, accompanied by Mrs. O'Reilly and daughter, Miss Katherine, left this morning for an extended vacation in New York and Canada. Mr. O'Reilly has not had a vacation in ten years and will do nothing but rest and enjoy the sunbath while away this time.

The O'Reillys, Joe, Jr., and Frank, will be guests at the St. John's Seminary while their parents are absent.

Miss Nellie Swanson of Brookfield, Conn., Miss Van Glassbeck, who taught in Anselmo Union county school, last year, Rev. Granville of Carrizozo, all among the young people who enrolled at the Albuquerque Business College today. Miss Emma Ahern of Springer, N. M., will arrive tonight to pursue a commercial course. The enrollment at the college is very encouraging and Prof. J. E. Gould believes that this will be the best year for the institution.

Mr. Mendel Silver, rabbi of Temple Ahabah, president of the Albuquerque Anti-Tuberculosis Association, gave the University of New Mexico for the coming year a sum of Albuquerque's best and most public spirit.

He returned from the California Run-off yesterday after spending three months in the east with Mrs. Silver and child.

Miss Frances Murphy and sister, Cecilia, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Murphy, of 215 West Lead avenue, returned last night from Gallup, where they were the guests of Mrs. Martin Murphy for several days.

Miss Murphy was formerly Miss Helen Hogan of Albuquerque.

P. A. Ross, chief clerk to the Santa Fe roadmaster at Gallup, spent Sunday in Albuquerque, returning west last night. Mr. Ross says conditions are good in the Carbon City and that

In the city yesterday Lieutenant Eason led in the shooting in New Mexico, guardedly, shooting 234 out of a possible 300, lacking one point to make an average of 82. Private E. Colf of Artesia was second with 223. Lieutenant Jake Safford of Santa Fe was third with 218. The New Mexicans failed to get into the running in the classes because of the poor marksmanship of two or three members of the team whose experience should have enabled them to do better work.

Mrs. O'Loughlin, wife of M. O'Loughlin of 316 West Coal avenue, returned Saturday, accompanied by her son, John, from a visit of several weeks in Southern California. Mrs. O'Loughlin visited for several days with her son Joseph, who is studying for the Catholic priesthood in the Jesuit novitiate in Los Gatos, Calif., and also with her brother, Rev. Ferdinand C. Radhak, a parish priest in San Francisco. The numerous friends of "Joe" O'Loughlin in Albuquerque will be pleased to learn that the young man is enjoying good health and making splendid progress in his studies.

In compliance with the recent ordinance passed by the city council, all plumbers who expect to practice their trade in Albuquerque will be required to submit to an examination before the board of plumbing examiner in the Central school building either tomorrow or Wednesday. The examining board consists of J. P. Steele, M. Vickery and Earl Newell. Mr. Steele being a representative for the city, Mr. Vickery for the master plumbers and Mr. Bowditch for the union plumbers. Licenses will be issued to duly qualified plumbers after the examination.

The Globe News of Gillespie, Ill., of a recent date has the following note of interest to local friends of James Duffy, a well known barger, whose brother died here three weeks ago: James Duffy returned Monday to Albuquerque, N. M., where he has a good position. Mr. Duffy accompanied the remains of his brother here and stayed until after the business of the estate was attended to. He speaks in glowing terms of New Mexico and seems well satisfied with Albuquerque. He spoke very highly of the kind treatment that was accorded him and the family of his deceased brother at the time of the death, and is held in high praise of the hospitality shown by the people of Albuquerque.

Rev. A. M. Mandakari, S. J., pastor of the Immaculate Conception church, has received from Frances Rose Loois, a miss of ten summers, who is a student in St. Mary's convent, near Notre Dame, Ind., a beautiful silk hand-painted purse, to be used on the altar during the exposition of the Blessed Sacrament. The purse is entirely the work of Frances Rose, who will be remembered as one of the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Loois, both of whom died several years ago. The work of art is the first to be completed by the little girl, and she wished it to be used in the Immaculate Conception church here, where she was baptized and where her parents were members.

Father Mandakari prizes the purse very highly and will use it on the altar for its intended purpose.
